

PUNOLJETSTVO – već 18 godina!

Zvanično, 18 godina života označava punoljetstvo. Prema ocjenama najpozvanijih iz oblasti klapskog svijeta, publike i meritornih institucija, Međunarodni festival klapa u Perastu odavno je dosegao zrelost, svojim inovativnim programskim sadržajima, organizacijom, pjesmom gotovo 400 klapa-učesnica, uz saradnju i pomoć uvaženih saradnika i, prije svega, čuvanjem i promocijom kulturne baštine Boke Kotorske. O tom konzistentnom nastojanju ne svjedoče samo javna priznanja, poput Nagrade Wild Beaty Award, za najbolji festival u Crnoj Gori 2017. godine, već i vrijedne publikacije, sedam brojeva festivalskog alamanaha Lirica i knjiga Pjesme dalmatske iz Boke Ludvika Kube (1907). Pored stručne javnosti, našu misiju očuvanja i naučnog promišljanja kulturne baštine prepoznaje i Ministarstvo kulture Crne Gore. S tim u vezi, Pavle Goranović, resorni ministar 2015. godine, istakao je da nasleđe zahtjeva visoku kulturnu svijest, znanje, duhovnu izgrađenost i poseban senzibilitet, te da naučno-istraživačka dimenzija Festivala klapa zaslužuje „veliku pažnju Ministarstva kulture Crne Gore. U tom kontekstu, publikovanje Pjesmi dalmatskih iz Boke Ludvika Kube – etnomuzikologa posvećenog prikupljanju narodnih pjesama s ovih prostora – jeste vrijedan doprinos kulturnoj bašti“. Sličnog mišljenja je i Aleksandar Bogdanović, ministar kulture, koji je 2018. godine ukazao na vrijednost očuvanja kulturnog identiteta, jer „dosljedna, skoro dvodelenijska promocija posebnog dijela našeg kulturnog nasljeđa, iskazana kroz takmičarske i revijalne nastupe klapa iz Crne Gore i regiona, jeste značajan doprinos našoj kulturnoj stvarnosti.“

U javnom govoru Festival je prepoznat i kao mjesto odbrane prava na kulturu, kao što je to Vladimir Jokić, predsjednik Opštine Kotor 2017. godine kazao: „Kada je u vrijeme najvećeg za koje je zadesilo našu planetu neko upitao tadašnjeg premijera Velike Britanije, Čerčila, da smanji davanje za kulturu za vrijeme rata a da poveća davanje za vojsku, on je odgovorio da ako to urade, što će im ostati da brane. Vjerujem da smo, braneći pravo da Perast ima Festival klapa, braneći pravo da Kotor ima Festival pozorišta za djecu i Don Brankove dane muzike, odbranili pravo da Boka ima svoju kulturu i svoju posebnost“. Godinu potom, svečano otvaranje Festivala odigralo se u vrijeme 42. Sjednice Komiteta za svjetsku baštinu UNESCO-a, odakle je gospodin Jokić poslao telegram podrške i čestitao početak Festivala riječima: „Okružen istinskom kulturnom raznolikošću, sa ovog mjesta vas dodatno uvjeravam u ono što ionako svi vi znate, da su Boka, Kotor i Perast vrijedan

AGE OF MATURITY - 18 Years Already!

It's officially 18 years of existence for IFK Perast marks the age of maturity. Of course, judging from the recognition of many of the most renowned figures in the field of klapa music world, of audiences, and of institutions, IFK Perast already reached its maturity quite a few years ago, with its innovative program contents, organization, songs of almost 400 klapa-participants, and the many distinguished and beloved associates we have hosted in Perast... But above all, it is for its role in and dedication to the preserving and promoting of cultural heritage of Boka Kotorska that the festival stands out. Our consistent efforts have been recognized not only by public awards, such as the Wild Beauty Award for the Best Festival in Montenegro in 2017, but primarily for our valuable publications: seven issues of the festival almanac Lirica and the book Dalmatian Songs from Boka of Ludwig Kuba (1907). In addition to the recognition of many professionals, the Ministry of Culture of Montenegro has recognized our mission of preserving traditional music and scientific reflection on cultural heritage. In that regard, Pavle Goranovic, the Minister of Culture in 2015, emphasized that our heritage requires high cultural awareness, knowledge, spiritual building, and special sensibility, and that the scientific-research dimension of the Klapa Festival deserved “the high attention of the Ministry of Culture. In this context, the publication of the book of Ludwig Kuban, an ethnomusicologist dedicated to the collection of folk songs from these areas - is a valuable contribution to cultural heritage.” Aleksandar Bogdanovic, acting Minister of Culture, expressed a similar opinion. In 2018 he pointed out the value of preserving cultural identity, as he said “... almost two decades of consistent promotion of a special part of our cultural heritage is demonstrated through the competitive and review performances of klapas from Montenegro and the region, (and this) is a significant contribution to our cultural reality.”

Publicly, the festival has been recognized as a symbol and bastion of defense for the right to culture, as Vladimir Jokic, the president of the municipality of Kotor, stated in 2017: “When, at the time of the greatest evil that hit our planet, someone asked the then Prime Minister of Great Britain, Churchill, to reduce contributions for culture during the war, and increase giving to the army, he replied that if they did, what would remain for them to defend? I believe that we, by defending the right to have the Klapa Festival of Perast, by defending the right of Kotor to carry out a Children’s Theater Festival and Don Branko’s Days of Music, we have defended the dio svijeta i njegove baštine, a da je klapska pjesma u samom srcu Boke. KotorArt, Festival klapa i klapska pjesma jesu naša snaga iz zajedničkog vrela koju nudimo svijetu, pa vama i svima nama želim da u godinama pred nama jačate i jačamo sve više."

Peraški đardin, kako smo zapisali prošle godine, prolazio je raznolike mijene. U igri sunca, južine i oštih bura, uprkos raskošnim usponima, tišini mirenja, uz strpljenje i nadu, taj đardin opstaje, raste i postaje bogatiji za nove klapske, muzičke priče, izdašno dajući svoje plodove, obnavlja se i širi, skromno i postojano. Ovogodišnje izdanje Festivala posvećujemo najmlađim naraštajima i jučerašnjim debitantima, novim mladim klapama u Crnoj Gori, koje su se uhvatile u zlatni vez klapskog pjevanja: Kotorskim gardelinima, Primorkinjama iz Budve, Štiglićima i Camertonu iz Podgorice.

Uživajte u pjesmi i raspjevanom druženju i istrajte u građenju prijateljstava bez granica, poput naše festivalske misije tokom ovog „punoljetstva“.

right to sustain Boka's culture and its particularities." A year later, the ceremonial opening of the festival took place during the 42nd Session of the UNESCO World Heritage Committee, from where Mr. Jokic sent a telegram to support and congratulate the commencement of the Festival with the words: "Surrounded by true cultural diversity, I am further assuring you of what all of you already know; that Boka, Kotor, and Perast are valuable parts of the world and its heritage, and that klapa singing is at the very heart of Boka. (...) KotorArt, the Klapa Festival, and the klapa songs are our strength from the common springs we offer to the world, and to you and to all of us, we want to strengthen and sustain you in the years ahead."

The Perast gardens of klapa singing, as we wrote last year, have experienced a great many changes, from those that were seasonal - some sunny, some with heavy south rains or freezing Bora winds – to those rises and falls of prosperity, across times of silence and peace, of patience and hope ... But these gardens have survived, and they continue to grow and become enriched by new stories of klapa music, generously giving their fruits, renewed and expanded, modestly and consistently...

In this light, the XVIII IFK Perast is dedicated to the youngest generations and yesterday's debutantes, to the new, young klapas of Montenegro who have grasped the golden bond of klapa singing that has breathed life into our communities for centuries: in Boka, Kotorski Gardelini, Primorkinje from Budva, and Štiglići and Camerton from Podgorica. Let them, and us, enjoy the singing and gathering, and so strengthen friendships without borders, as we strive to do with our festival's mission this year, our Age of Maturity.

TRUBADURI U PERASTU, kao poseban muzički događaj Festivala, zasnovan je na tradiciji trubadurskog pjevanja koje je svoj procvat imalo i u Dubrovniku, i u Boki. Zajedničko izvorište ljubavne lirike – još od XV vijeka, preko petrarkizma, do kasnijih uticaja italijanske književnosti, Boka i Dubrovnik dijele zahvaljujući sličnim istorijskim iskustvima u vjekovnim vezama s Venecijom. U baroknom XVII i prosvjetiteljskom XVIII vijeku, u svim primorskim mjestima, od Istre do Budve, širo se književni i muzički fenomen ljubavnog pjevanja. O tome svjedoče značajne zbirke pjesama, od pjesmarica Dobrotska lirika i Pjesme Miroslava Zanovića iz Budve, preko niza kasnijih zbirki Bokelja, s kraja XIX vijeka (A. Verona, G. Zarbarini, B. Lazzari iz Prčanja, A. Milostić iz Dobrota), do brojnih privatnih zbirki bokeljskih pomoraca.

Dubrovnik, koji je u prošlom vijeku odnjegovoao trubadursku muziku kroz svoje vrsne i proslavljenje interpretatore i autore, znatno je uticao i na muzičko stvaralaštvo u Boki, kao i na klapsku muziku. Stoga je i ovaj program posvećen čuvanju zajedničke kulturne tradicije koncertom najprestižnijih savremenih predstavnika trubadurskog Dubrovnika i gostujućih klapa. U jedinstvenom ambijentu Perasta ovaj romantični koncert nije samo poseban muzičko-scenski događaj, već je i dio kulturne baštine Boke Kotorske.

TROUBADOURES IN PERAST, a unique music event of the festival, is based on the tradition of troubadours singing, one which bloomed in Dubrovnik and Boka Kotorska (Kotor Bay). The common origins of love poetry, from Petrarch's XV century sonnets to later influences of Italian literature, have long been shared by both Boka Kotorska and Dubrovnik thanks to their similar historical ties with Venice, their common ally for centuries. During the Baroque period of the XVII century and the Enlightenment of the XVIII century, the phenomenon of lyric poetry spread across literature and music, witnessed by the significant written testimony of Boka cultural heritage – the song books Lyric of Dobrota and Songs of Miroslav Zenovic from Budva as well as a series of later song collections by Boka poets from late XIX century (A. Verona, G. Zarbarini, B. Lazzari from Prčanj, A. Milostić from Dobrota) attest to this proliferation, as do many private collections from the seamen of Boka.

In Dubrovnik, during the last century, this troubadours' music was preserved by its excellent and famous musicians and authors and it had a significant influence on the music creativity of Boka, including its klapa music. Therefore, this concert is dedicated to preservation of the common culture tradition performed by the most significant representatives of the troubadours of Dubrovnik and their guests. In the unique ambience of Perast, this romantic concert not only stands out as a unique musical and stage spectacle, but represents an authentic part of our cultural heritage.

IBRICA JUSIĆ

Maestro IBRICA JUSIĆ, šansonijer i kantautor, umjetnik koji je prvi uveo psa ravnopravno u javni prostor, boem koji je vidio sjaj i bijedu Pariza, kazivač vječnih stihova, gitarista i vagabundo, pjevač sa dubrovačkih skalina, na sceni je već 55 godina. U Parizu je tokom karijere boravio u dva navrata, jednom pet, drugi put devet godina, a u gradu svjetlosti snimio je album na francuskom jeziku. Iako je umjetničku slavu stekao na širokom prostoru bivše Jugoslavije, nikad nije bio dio međistrm scene, već je ostao postojan, bez ugađanja trendovima i prolaznim modama, uvijek ponosno birajući tekstove i saradnike. U novembru 2018. godine u zagrebačkom Hrvatskom narodnom kazalištu (HNK) koncertom Od Šekspira do sevdaha obilježio je 54 godine karijere. Kao umjetnik prepoznatljivog muzičkog izraza, isprepletenog hrvatskim, francuskim i italijanskim uticajima, na muzičkoj sceni je od 1968. godine, pobijedivši tada na Zagrebačkom festivalu, s pjesmom Celuloidni pajac. Sedamdesetih godina prošloga vijeka proslavio se pjesmama: Mačka, Dobro jutro, Margareta, Jubi san vašu čer itd. Tradicionalno održava koncerte u sklopu Dubrovačkih ljetnih igara.

Maestro IBRICA JUSIĆ, the chancellor and author of cantations, an artist who introduced the dog to equal footing in the public space, a bohemian who has reveled in the splendor and misery of Paris, a poet of eternal verses, guitarists, and vagabonds, singer for the Dubrovnik Scale, is a musician who has for 55 years been on the scene. He sojourned twice in Paris during the length of his career, once for five years, and another for nine, and in The City of Lights, he recorded his only album in French. Although he has gained artistic fame in the wider area of the former Yugoslavia, he has never been part of the mainstream scene, but rather remained a steady presence, never compromising his artistic oeuvre with trends and passing modes, always carefully choosing texts and associates. He burst onto the music scene in 1968 when he won the Zagreb Festival with the song Celuloid Clown. In the seventies of the last century, he celebrated, among others, the songs of Cat, Good Morning, Margaret, I loved, I loved Your Daughter, among many others. In November 2018, in Zagreb's Croatian National Theater (HNK), he marked the 54th anniversary of the concert From Shakespeare to Sevdah. His artist work is a uniquely recognizable musical blend, intertwining Croatian, French, and Italian influences. Jusić traditionally holds concerts within the Dubrovnik Summer Festival.

PROMOCIJA FESTIVALSKOG ALMANAHA

Lirica br. 7: Nove klapske pjesme sa XIV-XVII MFK u Perastu

U dosadašnjih sedam brojeva festivalskog almanaha Lirica (2013–2019) očuvan je spomen na prve vrijedne zapisivače naše muzičke tradicije: Ludvika Kubu, Dionizija de Sarno-San Đorđa, Franja Kuhača, s kraja XIX vijeka, kasnije melografe i bokeljske autore: Tripa Tomasa, Nikolu Gregovića, Minju Vučetića, Nikšu Čučića, Vidu Matjan, Ivu Begu, Dragana Rakića, Božidara Ivanševića, te današnje savremene autore. Knjigom Pjesme dalmatske iz Boke Ludvika Kuba (1907), objavljenoj 2015. godine, Festival je doprinio etnomuzikologiji u Crnoj Gori, otkrivajući 155 nepoznatih notnih zapisu pjesama koje su se u narodu Boke pjevale davno prije Kubinih zapisu.

Nova klapska pjesma, kao takmičarska kategorija, uvedena je prvi put u program VIII Međunarodnog festivala klapa Perast, 2009. godine. U Lirici br. 2, 2014. godine, objavljene su 34 partiture novih klapskih pjesama, premijerno izvedenih godinu za godinom, od VIII do XIII Festivala. Ovogodišnja Lirica br. 7 predstavlja nastavak izdavačke aktivnosti i donosi 33 nove klapske pjesme, izvedene u takmičarskoj kategoriji narednih godina, od XIV do XVII Festivala. Tematika pjesama je Boka Kotorska – more i pomorstvo.

Jednom izvedene, pjesme ulaze u našu web-biblioteku kao Bokeljske pjesme, kojih sada ima već preko 350. Na taj način, partiture su dostupne klapskim stvaraocima i izvođačima. Mnoge od njih su, nakon premijernih izvođenja, postale dio stalnog repertoara brojnih klapa iz regiona i Crne Gore, što govori o njihovoj popularnosti i daljem muzičkom životu.

PRESENTATION OF BOOK

Lirica No. 7: New Klapa Songs from XIV-XVII MFK-Perast

In the seven previous issues of the Lirica festival almanac (2013–2019), the memory of the first valuable melographer recorders of our musical tradition was preserved: Ludvik Kuba, Dionisio de Sarno-San Giorgio, and Franjo Kuhač from the end of the XIX century, and later melodies and authors from Boka: Tripo Tomas, Nikola Gregović, Minja Vučetić, Nikša Čučić, Vida Matjan, Iv Begu, Dragan Rakić, and Božidar Ivanšević, through to the most celebrated authors of contemporary times. With the celebrated re-issuing of the Dalmatian Songs of Ludvijk Kuba (1907) in 2015, the Festival made a significant contribution to ethnomusicology in Montenegro and beyond, discovering and recovering 155 unknown music scores of songs that were sung in Boka long before Kuba recorded them.

New Klapa Songs, as a competition category, was introduced for the first time in the program of the VIII International Festival Klapa Perast in 2009. In Lirica No. 2, 2014, 34 new klapa songs were published and premiered from the VIII to XIII Festival. This year's Lirica No. 7 is a continuation of our publishing activity and presents 33 new klapa songs performed from the XIV to XVII Festival. The theme of the songs is Boka Kotorska – Sea and Maritime.

Once performed, these songs enter our web library as Songs of Boka, now with a collection of more than 350. The scores are thus available to artists and performers. Many of these songs, after the premiere performances, have become part of the constantly advancing repertoire of numerous klapa from the region and Montenegro, which speaks of their popularity and further musical life.

Among the poets of these songs are some of the greatest living authors, such as Jakša Fiamengo, Vesna Parun, Miloš Milošević, Mila Moškov, and many others. The composers and arrangers are also some of the most esteemed in the klapa world, including Krešimir Magdić, Duško Tambače, Vicko Dragojević, Vinko Didović, Marija Katavić, Jure Šaban-Stanić, Ana Kodrić-lvelić, and Tomislav Sušac. For the local heart's content, there are a significant number of domestic authors like Slobo Kovačević, Ivan Tomas, Mia Vidović, Bobo Nikolić, Jovanka Veljović, Zoja Đurović, and Momčilo Zeković, among others. With premiere performances of excellent klapa groups that are preparing new songs with sincere dedication, this competition category has been received with great approval from festival audiences each year.
